For Immediate Release

10/31/2023

The City wishes to clarify and correct statements made during the City Council meeting of March 27, 2023.

The City has just completed its internal review of the allegations raised during that meeting. As a preliminary matter, the statements cited by the Nisqually Valley News during that meeting did not represent the City's position on these matters. The statements were premature and provided prior to a detailed internal review.

As a result of its internal review, the city has not found evidence to confirm these allegations made against former City Clerk-Treasurer Kelli Loudin. The City wishes Ms. Loudin well in all her future endeavors.
