OPMA/PRA emergency proclamation to expire June 1 After two years of operating under a state emergency proclamation, pandemic-related measures for public meetings and public records will be lifted on June 1, 2022.

Open public meetings

Effective June 1, Proclamation 20-28 will be rescinded. At that time, meetings subject to the Open Public Meetings Act (OPMA) are no longer required to be held remotely. Beginning June 1, meetings must have a physical location; however, cities can continue to provide members of the public or governing body remote access to meetings by phone, video, or internet streaming per local policy or practice. While Proclamation 20-28 will be rescinded on June 1, HB 1329 modifying the emergency provisions of the OPMA is effective as of March 24. Under this bill, a city may elect to hold meetings remotely if a public agency determines that an in-person public meeting cannot be held with reasonable safety due to a local, state, or federally declared emergency. As the state is still in declared state of emergency for COVID-19 under Proclamation 20-05, agencies have the option to conduct remote meetings or to limit in-person under this revision to the law.

Council will continue holding meetings virtually the 4th Monday of the month at 6:30p.m.

The next meeting will be September 26th, 2022.
